

OCTOBER 12, 2018
Bronx, New York

Dear EHSSSENTIALS Attendee,

We're looking forward to seeing you and your healthcare colleagues tomorrow (Friday, October 12th) at the Montefiore Medical Center Moses Campus for our first EHSSSENTIALS New York Symposium!

Here are a few important tips to help you get the day off to a great start and have a wonderful Symposium experience:

Don't forget to:

- Print your event ticket and bring it with you. A link to your ticket was included in your original registration confirmation email; we will also resend you the link early this afternoon "just in case."
- Dress in Layers: It is scheduled to be in the low 70's and mostly cloudy outside though air conditioning will be on inside will be warm outside and cool inside so you may want to "layer" appropriately.
- Review the Parking and Transportation information on the EHSSSENTIALS website.
- Review the Agenda and plan the sessions you will attend.
- Allow plenty of travel time as the commute into the Bronx can be busy. We recommend arriving 30-45 minutes prior to the event's 8:30 am start time (a light breakfast is available at 8:00 am).
- Enter into the Tishman Grand Hall, from the entrance on Gun Hill Road. Follow the event signs to the Conference Center.

Check-in is located at the Tishman Learning Center where you will receive your Symposium credentials. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact our EHSSSENTIALS Symposium host, Rachel Michael, via email at Rachel.Michael@bsigroup.com or at (801) 864-8193.

Thanks again for joining us for this exciting event.

Sincerely,

The EHSSSENTIALS Event Team

P.S. Have a co-worker or colleague who would like to come but has not registered? Bring them along! We will be accepting walk-in registrations onsite tomorrow morning.

View the Complete Symposium Agenda, Sessions, & Speakers here